GALT RANCH

The Galt Ranch is a working cattle ranch in central Montana covering nearly 100, 000 acres. The Galts have been raising cattle and horses in Montana for three generations. Bill, along with his wife Jill and their family, run a cow, calf and yearling operation into which the breeding of good ranch horses fits very well. Bill learned long ago from his father, Jack, the value of raising quality ranch horses and how they can enhance and benefit a ranching operation. The Galts presently run four stud bunches, pasture breeding quality mares in the rugged foothills of the Big Belt Mountains. The mares foal out and then raise their colts in the rough and rocky country where sage brush and badger holes abound. Growing up in a very natural way, in the same country where they will possibly be working some day allows the young horses to grow into sturdy, surefooted individuals.

Bill started his own Quarter Horse Breeding Program in the 1970s with the purchase of two stallions bred for the specific qualities that ranchers value. The rugged mountains of Montana require a horse to be tough, surefooted and have a good bone structure under him. A good ranch horse must also be cowy, intelligent and athletic in order to do his job well. Disposition is of the utmost importance as the Galts believe that a horse can have a world of cow sense and athletic ability, but if he's too difficult or dangerous to get along with then all his talent is wasted.

Our goal for our ranch breeding program is to produce sturdy, athletic cowhorses that have calm, intelligent dispositions.

We realize, however that we are only producing the raw material for good working horses. After that, it's up to the owner/trainer to determine how successful the horse will be. A poor horseman can ruin a colt's chances to advance. An average hand will always ride average horses unless he or she strives constantly to improve himself. A good hand will make any horse better with every ride. The horse's attitude knowledge and skills are the mirror of the rider.

We work hard all year to develop a good balance of trust and respect in our horses, whether they ar weanlings or started young prospects. Therefore, it is our hope that every foal we raise and sell gives pleasure and enjoyment to his or her new owner.

We would like to thank you for your interest in our program and we hope to meet you if you make it to the sale!

Sincerely,

Bill & Jill Galt

CONTWAY RANCH

Back in the early 50s when I started roping I didn't have money for good horses. I bought what horses I could — broke and trained them. Looking back, I realize I was training myself, as well as the horses. I learned how to choose horses with good feet, strong legs, brains and stamina. I was not bound by bloodlines and names. I shopped and I mixed. I have had some great horses like the little gray that Troy Pruitt rode to win the calf roping at the NFR in 1994. In 2007 Chad Johnson won the Montana Circuit Finals on a mare I raised. She was named "Montana Cow Horse of the Year." She is taking Marty Becker, of Alberta, down the road this year and he is sitting high in the standings.

I am constantly looking for the best studs and the strongest mares to provide good horses for roping, cutting and ranch work.

Keeping a string of horses has also provided me with the models I need for my art. My work appeals to the men and women who know horses.

Selling a sculpture which people appreciate is gratifying. Riding a great horse is just pure pleasure. I am lucky enough to do both.

BURNS RANCH

Ron's great granddad, Frank Keene, came from Sterling, Virginia, by oxen to Virginia city, Montana, in 1864. He was racing horses down Last Chance Gulch in 1865. He established a ranch on the Missouri River near Canton, Montana, where he raised his family. Ron's granddad, Guy Keene, homesteaded southwest of Lingshire in 1914.

This ranch is now owned by Ron and Donna. We began ranching full time west of White Sulphur Springs in 1979. Due to the prolonged drought, we sold most of our cows in 2002 and are now managing a ranch for absentee owners. We had leased this ranch for 22 years and raised our family here.

Ron spent a lot of time with his grandparents. He always rode horses that were gathered off the open range. Donna had been the Secretary for the Montana Quarter Horse Association. We married in 1971, and Donna got Ron to realize the value of quality horses. We have been raising Quarter Horses since then and have always bred for a quality, versatile, good using kind of horse.

We now have a little more time to devote to our horses, which have always been a part of our lives. Ron still helps the neighbors trail cattle, brand, ship and wean calves and is always training his young horses.

Our mares are daughters and granddaughters of Herc's Midnight

Roost, Sir Rambler, My Leroy Brown, Secretariat, Doc's Jack Frost, Dash for Cash, Sir Quincy Dan, Eagles Gunsmoke, Topsail Cody, Shy Ole Man, Easter Gentleman, Major Bonanza, Simply A Spark, Paddys Irish Whiskey, Doc Tari, Clarks Doc Bar, Start Charging, Doc O Dynamite, Grays Starlight, Roy R Vejo, Zippo Pat Bars and Kansas Badger. Breeding these good mares to Dual Dash is giving the Burns Ranch the type of horses we are striving for.

Galt Ranch Sculpture

This bronze sculpture by artist Jay Contway depicts the beauty of the true western ranch horse. From the alert intelligence that gleams from his wide set eyes to the rugged and powerful symmetry of his physical build, Jay has captured the essence of how the west was truly won.

The Galts will be giving away this beautiful sculpture to a selected bidder on sale day.

We reserve the right, at our discretion, to award the bronze sculpture to either the purchaser of multiple Galt horses where the cumulative purchase price is the highest of the day or to the highest price horse of the day.

I bought her back again and bred her to the champion Australian stallion, Peptos Stylish Oak who was the leading sire of cutting futurity winners in Australia. The filly from this breeding is now in British Columbia with trainer Dave Batty. In 2006 I bred her to Hes A Peptospoonful. His stud fee is now $10,000, transported semen included. She has a blemish on her front leg from a small wire cut as a foal but sells guaranteed sound. She has a cautious nature and so should go to someone with the right amount of patience and skill.

Sire: Duals Blue Boon, AQHA QWorld Champion with cutting earnings just shy of $200,000. Stands for $6,000. Dam: Leroys Pretty Girl. I started this Mare as a two year old. She had the hardest, smoothest stop of any horse I ever rode. When she was four or five I sent her to Arnie Johnson to finish. I decided to breed her but they really wanted her so they bought her with the provision that I could get an embryo from her. This year Marty Becker bought her for a record setting price and has been setting arena records on her. A Foxy Filly, the dam of Leroys Pretty Girl, had been on the track in California when I got her and within three months of training by Jimmy Phillips she won third at the International Snaffle Bit competition in Montana. This young stallion, with both speed and brains in his background, has the potential to be a great sire.

This is really a great young Mare. I didn't get her to Dave Batty early enough to train for the Futurities because of closure of the Canadian border. Jimmy Phillips started her as a long yearling and rode her for about a year. I rode her and worked cattle on her for about six months. Dave Batty rode her for about a year and made a cutting horse out of her. I brought her home and bred her to the great cutting horse Smart Mate. This mare has good feet and great confirmation. She has a great stop and is very athletic. She has the speed to make a barrel horse. There are no flaws in this Mare. Beaver is a 14.3 H brown Gelding that has always been easy to get along with. He went through an Anderson reining Clinic and did well. His mom came out of the Weaver program; this is the last of the many good colts she gave us. We sold Doc McKay to a two-time NFR calf roping qualifier. Rum Squall stands in Texas and is a $66,000 NCHA earner. Start Charging is the sire of Royal Three Charge, a known speed horse. This colt will be able to do a lot of things, but should excel as a calf roping horse. Current on vaccinations, including West Nile, strangles, worming and Coggins.
